Remember that the goods must be selected and sent with your order. We cannot send them separately.

YOU MUST REALIZE the enormity of such an offer. Last year on a similar liberal profit sharing plan we gave away more than 30,000 (thirty thousand) plants and thousands of packets of flower seeds. These plants and seeds were shipped with the order prepaid absolutely FREE to the customer. Don't fail to get your share of the profits this year.

This Catalog is Our Only Salesman

Each year we receive a few complaints from people who have bought goods from salesmen who represent themselves as our agents. We wish to make it very plain to our friends that we have no agents.

We are sending this catalog to you as our only agent and ask that you make your selection herein and order directly from us. Send us your order today.

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE ORDERING

We wish to call your attention to the suggestions below which, if followed, will aid greatly in the prompt and satisfactory execution of your orders.

OUR PRICES. Do not compare our prices with those who do not PREPAY charges. Prices quoted in this catalogue are net with all parcel post, express and freight charges prepaid.

INSURED PARCEL POST. If you desire your order to be shipped by insured parcel post, send 12c extra, otherwise it will not be insured. If you send 12c extra, state on your order to send by insured parcel post. Special instructions as to how order should be marked can be found in right-hand corner of order blank. Insured parcels are handled with more care than those sent otherwise.

REMITTANCE WITH ORDER. Please send sufficient money to cover your entire order. The safest way is by means of post office money order. If money order gets lost a duplicate can be obtained very easily and there is no danger of their being stolen, as no one can obtain money on them except person or firm to whom they are addressed. We enclose in our catalog for your convenience money order blank which makes it easy to obtain this form of remittance. Cost for obtaining money order is listed on back of blank.

We assume the risk of paper and silver money only when carefully sealed in our self-addressed envelopes and sent by registered mail, otherwise it is at the risk of the sender.

POSTAGE STAMPS. These can be sent when other forms of remittance cannot be had, provided 3c in stamps extra are sent with every remittance. None but stamps in perfect condition accepted. We much prefer other forms of remittance.

SHIPMENTS. As we prepay all shipments, we withhold the right to ship either parcel post or express—our option.

OUR NURSERY DEPARTMENT is separate from our greenhouse. It is necessary, therefore, that all orders for Fruit Trees, etc., be shipped direct from nursery department. They are not sent with other goods.

A Real Investment

There is nothing so decorative and adds so much to the attractiveness of a home as flowers. Ten per cent is added to the value of a place when some thought has been given to the arrangement of shrubbery and flowers. The humblest abode takes on an inviting appearance when vines cover unsightly fences and bright flowers border the way to the door.

A certain per cent of the money we earn should be invested in pleasure, but we want to get the most for our money out of this "pleasure investment." While the growing of food and feed is essential, yet the pleasure that one gets from a flower garden must not be overlooked. No matter who you are or where, you can have flowers. You will be well repaid for the small amount of time needed to tend the flowers.

Our flower seeds have no superiors. Our business experience has shown us that the best advertisement is a satisfied customer, and our high grade strains of seeds are bound to make every one who plants them satisfied. Those who buy from us find that the quantity of our seed and the size and brilliancy of the bloom surpass anything they have ever had. We spare no trouble or expense to get the very best for our customers—the best varieties of all flowers adapted to planting in the south.

Many people prefer to order plants, which saves the trouble of planting seed. We grow all kinds of plants in our greenhouses. Many varieties are very hard to get from seed and we can furnish fine specimens in our plant department. We have ample room in our greenhouses to grow hot house plants and in our fields for shrubbery and hardy plants. We only list varieties of shrubbery, fruit trees, plants, etc., well adapted to our southern climate.

In case you meet with difficulty in cultivation of any particular varieties, write us for free information. We are glad to give helpful ideas straight from our experienced growers.

Decide today to make the investment which will bring you such valuable returns. Plant a flower garden. Let our catalogue be your guide.

How to Grow Flowers. For several years we have printed in our catalog brief instructions for planting and growing flowers that were written for us by one of our customers that is unusually successful in raising flowers. As we do not believe these instructions can be improved, we are printing them again this year. We feel certain you will have fine success with your flowers if you follow these suggestions.

"Nine-tenths of the failures in raising flowers are caused by improper treatment of the seeds and young plants. The finer seeds should be started in shallow, well-drained boxes in the house and the young seedlings should be transplanted a few times until they are large enough to be set out in the open ground. Do not plant any seed as long as the ground is wet. A mellow loam, enriched with compost of rotted manure and leaf mold, is best adapted to most flowers. Rake the surface as smooth and fine as possible, elevating the surface of the beds and borders slightly in the middle so that surplus water may run off. Cover the different seeds in proportion to their size, giving very thin covering to small seeds and planting large seeds deeper. After planting, press the earth down firmly over the seed, else there is danger of them drying out. After the seedlings are up they must have plenty of moisture, but not too much, or they will 'damp off.' During dry weather, or after transplanting, they must be watered frequently."

Annuals

Varieties that die down the same season and must be replanted each season.

Chinese Woolflower (Celosia) We are featuring this variety, as it is the most magnificent garden flower grown. A truly valuable and glorious flower. Easy to grow, and blooms from July till early frost. Has massive bunches of wool-like flowers of glowing colors. Plants grow two to three feet high, the blooms starting early with a central globular head, which often reaches the immense size of two feet in circumference. Scores of branches are thrown out, each bearing a ball of scarlet wool. None of the blooms fade in any way until hit by frost. Flowers when cut in a fresh state and carefully dried retain their shape and brilliant color and are useful for winter decorating, like everlastings. (No. 100.) Seed, per pkt. 15c.

Velvet Flower

The long-stemmed flowers are fine for cut-flower decorations.

Nasturtiums

Few flowers impart such rich beauty to the garden as Nasturtiums. The colors of their lovely flowers are bright and varied and contrast well with their dark green foliage. Their duration of bloom is marvelous, and their culture is the simplest. They give a profusion of bloom in poor soil and stand hot and dry weather better than most any flower we know of. The dwarf sorts are splendid bedders, making a plant about 10 inches high and a foot across. The tall sorts are good climbers, being excellent for covering unsightly places, and trailing over bare, rocky spots, or climbing fences or trellises. The seed pods have a pungent flavor and are much used for pickling and seasoning. We are offering the best and newest varieties, and hope everyone will try a few of them. You will find our prices on them are very low.

Double Large Flowering

NOTE.—It is well known that seed saved from the most carefully hybridized flowers produce but a small percentage of double flowers, the balance being single of unusually fine quality. The weaker seedlings should be carefully saved, as these invariably produce the finest double flowers. The same is true of the single sorts, the large, strong seedlings usually being weedy, while the, at first, weaker seedlings produce the very finest flowers, of the best colorings.

Sweet Peas

A Sweet Pea bed is one of the most enjoyable things a home can have. By planting a small amount of good seed you can have all the beautiful blooms you possibly can use. Good sweet pea seed has been one of our specialties for years. We sell large quantities each season.

Sweet Peas can be grown in the South with comparative ease. We have found the most important point to be watched is the time of planting the seed. The early part of January is really the best planting time. Of course, when planted early the seed should be covered with more soil than when planted later. Otherwise the directions given here apply. Select rich ground, and spade it deeply; then dig a trench 5 or 6 inches deep and sow your seed in it and cover with 2 or 3 inches of soil, hoeing in the balance when the plants are well started in growth. When 2 or 3 inches high the vines should be thinned to 5 or 6 inches apart, and brush or twine run from stake to stake should be provided for them to run on. In wet weather the earth should be ridged along the row, and in dry weather should be worked frequently to preserve the moisture. Always cut the flowers before they wither. Observe these directions carefully and you will have strong vines, profuse flowers and long season of bloom.

Bermuda Grass For Your Lawn

Excellent for making lawns as well as pasture. Bermuda Grass in the South, like Kentucky Blue Grass in the North, is one of the grasses for pasture, and yields good crops of hay on rich soil. It grows on nearly all soils, but succeeds best where land is fertile. Withstanding, as it does, the extremes of heat and drouth, it makes a thick interwoven sod and furnishes an abundance of leaves, and will stand the tramping of cattle and the extremes of heat and drouth better than any other grass we know. During the warm months, and especially the heated dry spells, there is nothing better. In the South, it will stand indefinitely, and if plowed and harrowed in the spring once in three to five years the yield will be constantly kept up, especially if an application of fertilizer or stable manure is given occasionally. To eradicate it the soil must be deeply plowed, the roots inverted to the sun in the hot, dry weather for two or three weeks. It has been popularly supposed that a stand of Bermuda Grass cannot be obtained from seed, and planting by roots has been recommended and generally practiced throughout the South. This is wrong, as, if good seed is obtained, there is no trouble in getting a stand, and the cost of seeding in comparison to sodding is trifling. The seed should be sown in February, March or April, at the rate of 8 to 10 pounds per acre. A rainy or damp day is best time to sow. Prepare the land well, getting it into as fine condition as possible, and make a good, firm seed-bed. As the seed is small, it should be lightly covered; a roller is preferable, or, if this cannot be obtained, use a brush harrow and cover the seed very lightly. They will lay dormant possibly thirty days in the ground until proper time to germinate. It is now well known that there is much adulteration of Bermuda Grass, by mixing other seeds with them, that have the same appearance to the naked eye. There are many cases where purchasers thought they could not obtain a stand of this valuable grass, when, in fact, what they had sown contained only a small per cent of genuine Bermuda Grass. The seed we offer is perfectly pure, clean and fresh. Lb., $1.25; 3 lbs. for $3.50; 10 lbs. for $10.00; postpaid. Write for prices in larger quantities.

Within the last few years Snapdragons have become immensely popular. This is not to be wondered at, as, whether used for cutting or for show in the garden, they are one of the most valuable flowers which can readily be grown from seed. We offer two distinct types, the large-flowering, tall-growing, or giant, and the equally large-flowered, half-dwarf variety. In our trials the seed sown out of doors the first week of May came into bloom early in July, remaining in full flower until November. For earlier flowering, they may be started indoors or in a frame in March, transplanting them to the open when the weather is suitable.

The dark green leaves are deeply lacinated, resembling a fine Japanese Maple; each plant bears almost countless numbers of extremely rich, circular, glowing scarlet flowers which average 1½ inches in diameter. It succeeds best in a warm, sunny position and should be planted in rich soil. While most profuse in flowering from July until frost, it is a shy seeder. We recommend starting early indoors. Pkt., 15c.

Chrysanthemums

Who does not admire the "Queen of Autumn," the handsomest of all autumnal flowers? Nearly all the varieties will grow and bloom in open ground before severe weather sets in. We grow none but the most desirable varieties.

Our chrysanthemums are the most beautiful and best adapted to our southern climate.

In order to grow large, full blooms, leave very few buds on a plant, not more than one to each branch and in case of growing individual flowers for exhibition, it is best to disbud the plant entirely with the exception of one flower to be produced. Bone meal and liquid manure are both fine fertilizers to be used in moderation so as not to burn the foliage. Chrysanthemums should have a very rich soil and a sunny location. Give plenty of water from the time the buds first appear until they are in full bloom. The plants should be pinched back while growing to give them good shape. Price, 18c each; 3 for 52c; doz., $2.00, all prepaid.

Own Root Roses—Best Kind to Plant

Own Root Roses

If you want the best Roses, don't buy Budded or Grafted Roses. This type of rose seems so much larger and stronger than "own root" roses that one is apt to be deceived into buying them, and you are sure to be disappointed in the result. Budded or grafted rose bushes are produced by taking a bud from the original plant and inserting it under the bark of the wild Manettia and binding it thereon. The first year it makes a vigorous growth of soft wood and probably will produce some blooms, but the second year the wild root shoots up wood that produces no blooms and does not even make an ornamental plant, sapping the life from the top, which usually dies. So, we repeat, be sure that you get own root roses, which are the only kind we grow.

Important Notice

On account of the extreme scarcity of roses this year, we suggest that you give us permission to substitute if necessary, giving you varieties equally as good, or better, of the same color as ordered. If this permission is not granted in space provided for on order blank we will refund purchase price if unable to supply varieties wanted.

Shade Trees

Umbrella China

Texas, Umbrella The best tree to grow for all purposes. It flourishes in any soil, and grows well whether it rains or not. The weather never gets too hot, nor too dry to prevent its growing rapidly. Especially is it desirable because it is free from borers, scale and disease of all kinds. It will live from ten to twenty years, and hence should not be depended upon for permanent shade. A good plan is to plant Chinas alternately with sycamores, elms, walnuts, pecans or other permanent trees. The Chinas will make shade at once and do for ten or more years. After this time they may be removed to make room for the permanent trees, which will be growing rapidly and will soon fill up the space. No tree has grown so rapidly into favor during the last four years as the Umbrella China.

Poplar, Carolina One of the most rapid-growing and desirable shade trees for street planting. It is especially desirable for planting in large cities, as it will stand more hardships than any other tree we know of. The leaves are large, deep green, glossy and handsome.

Poplar, Lombardy An upright grower and valuable where quick growing is desired.

Your Home Orchard Should Be Planted This Spring—Plant Our Southern Grown Trees

No home or farm is complete without an orchard. Then why delay planting yours any longer? Only a few trees are required to provide enough delicious fruit for the whole family. Plant several trees in front of the chicken house, and a couple back of the barn, or some other idle location. If you live on the farm set aside two or three acres to fruit trees, berry vines, and grapes. Of course, it is most important that you plant strong, Southern grown, acclimated Nursery Stock. The difference in cost to you between good and poor Nursery Stock is very little. It pays to buy good trees and vines, such as we offer.

Grapes

Every home should have a planting of this luscious fruit. The best way is to plant them in rows 6 to 8 feet apart each way and train on stakes or trellis, though they can be trained on fences or porch, furnishing not only shade but abundance of fruit. Prune severely for a year or two, allowing the vines to form four or five stems; after this prune to suit the individual taste. Fertilize the soil heavily and plant a little deeper than when in nursery.

Don't fail to plant grapes and you will not regret doing so.

Prices, except where otherwise noted, 50c each, three for $1.48, $5.50 per dozen. Write for our special prices on 50 to 100 lots.

Frost-Proof Cabbage Plants

Planting Our Frost-Proof Cabbage Plants Will Enable You to Market Cabbage Two to Four Weeks Earlier Than When Home Grown Plants Are Used

For several years we have been growing cabbage plants by the several million. Each year the same customers have been coming back for plants in larger quantities and new customers have been buying heavily. As a result this part of our business has developed into enormous proportions.

You Can't Afford to Take Chances

The cabbage plants we offer are grown from the best seed obtainable. When you order plants from us you do not get the left-overs from a market-gardener's crop. Our plants are of the best quality and are shipped to you when at the proper age for transplanting. Many firms offer plants which they secure at a very low price from gardeners who have many plants (culls) left over after planting out all they intend to grow for market. We can supply the following varieties this season: Early Jersey Wakefield, Flat Dutch, Charleston Wakefield and Succession.

Prices of Plants Postpaid to You

In lots of 100, 200, 300 or 400 plants at 60c per 100 plants; 500 plants for $2.00; 1,000 or more at $3.75 per 1,000 plants.

Orders are filled by the 100, not 250 or 350. These prices are for even quantities of our variety to package; if you ordered 200 of one variety and 300 of another variety, you would pay at the 100 rate.

Cabbage Plants by Express Collect

Many of our customers, and especially those buying in extra large quantities, usually prefer express shipment, as in large quantities the transportation is somewhat less than by parcel post.

For these we make the following prices, you paying express charges on arrival of the plants at your office:

In lots of 1,000 to 4,000 plants at $2.75 per 1,000; 5,000 or more at $2.25 per 1,000. Plants packed for express shipment, 1,000 or 2,000 plants of a variety to a package weigh about 25 pounds per thousand plants, packed for shipment. For the past two years the express service has been congested, and the deliveries slow and unsatisfactory. We are not responsible for delays caused by transportation companies. We, therefore, advise Parcel Post shipment.

Important Facts About Frost-Proof Cabbage Plants

The plants make a slow but steady growth, until at eight to ten weeks of age they are very tough and hardy, the buds are purple and the outer leaves a reddish-brown. When in this condition they can be shipped to territory farther north and be planted in the open ground a month to six weeks sooner than the home-grown hotbed or cold frame plants. These frost-proof cabbage plants will stand a temperature of 15 degrees above zero without injury. The land freezing, or the plants being covered with ice, sleet, or snow after they are planted will not injure them.

The top of the plant does not grow until regular Spring weather opens up, but the roots grow from the time they are planted, and just as soon as Spring weather starts, the established root growth assimilates the fertilizer in the soil, the plants grow very fast, maturing headed cabbage two to four weeks sooner than you can mature them from hotbed and cold frame plants. You know what the difference in profit will be if your crop is matured and marketed before the general crop from home-grown plants is ready.

To get the advantage of these frost-proof cabbage plants they must be planted a month or six weeks earlier than you would plant home-grown plants.

The plants when received will be somewhat wilted and have a hard, stunted appearance, which will be disappointing to persons who have never used these plants before. Regardless of appearance, they will produce the crop results.

Tomato Plants

We grow millions of tomato plants every year. The seed from which we grow our plants have been thoroughly tested for true-ness of type and variety.

This year we will have our usual stock of tomato plants and will fill orders as they come in.

We make a special point of selecting the strong, vigorous plants and pack them so they will reach you in the best possible condition.

The plants will be ready for shipment February 1st.

Onion Plants

Fifty Onion Plants Ready for the Mail

The usual manner of growing green onions has in the past been by planting sets, but various tests have proven that the onion plant is preferable. The set has to be absorbed by the new growth before it begins to form the new onion, whereas the plant begins to grow as soon as it is planted and makes more headway than the set, producing delicious young onions for table use during late fall, winter and spring. Onions grown from plants are larger and do not run to seed in the spring like sets. Onions love rich soil, so the ground should be liberally fertilized. Plant in rows about 15 inches apart and 3 or 4 inches apart in the row. Price, prepaid, per 100, 50c; 500, $1.75; 1,000, $2.75; 5,000 and over, $2.25 per 1,000.
